

Clustering algorithm was tested on four different classes of binary images. Each class represented a particular hand-written digit. Each example was 28x28. There were 2500 examples for each class.

Below are the resulting conditional probabilities for pixel/feature of the resulting clusters. Blue = 0, Red → 1

